

FYRAN BOATS

645 Pursuit

The new 645 Pursuit hardtop is designed for the serious offshore or coastal fisherman. It is also designed with the minimum of frills for budget and practical fishing, but plenty of optional extras for all the comforts of family cruising. It has extra buoyancy aft under the massive boarding platform especially designed for stern fishing (and diving) and improved stability at rest. A much longer waterline than competitors means an easily driven hull and soft riding in any conditions. This means either less hp required to power the boat, better fuel efficiency, lighter fuel loads, greater fishing range, or a combination of them all!

Extended hardtop side walls and hardtop overhang are a special feature of this design. Some hardtops leave the seated crew exposed to cross winds and spray. The 645 Pursuit crew are always out of the weather driving or fishing from the seats.

The extended hardtop, armour plate flat screen, extra stability and huge boarding platform make it ideal for all the family's activities including water skiing, picnicking, diving, sleeping (in the lined cabin with full length bunks!) as well as fishing.

Fyran's rugged 5mm aluminium hull has a combination of sealed buoyancy chambers and foam flotation giving a CPC rating of "unsinkable" and total peace of mind.
